WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

An upper level trough moving toward the West Coast will bring a chance of showers to areas mainly north of Cape Mendocino late tonight into Monday.

San Francisco Weather:

Increasing onshore flow and lower temperatures aloft will result in a cooling trend through the weekend and into the first part of next week. The passage of a deep upper level trough will bring a slight chance of showers to the more northern portion of the area Monday. A gradual warming trend is then expected to begin around midweek as high pressure rebuilds along the coast.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY

Sacramento Weather:

The high pressure ridge shifting eastward and will bring a cooling trend through early next week. A chance of showers will be possible into Tuesday as a low pressure system drops into the region. Dry and milder weather will return by the middle of next week.

Hanford Weather:

A strengthening onshore flow will bring a cooler air mass into the Central California interior during the next few days. Weather for the region will trend cloudier and slightly cooler than normal by Tuesday with a chance of showers over the mountains.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION: (Con't)

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

A trough of low pressure will bring a cooling trend and an increase in marine layer cloud coverage by Sunday and into early next week with temperatures returning to near normal by Sunday. Warming is expected for the second half of next week as high pressure returns.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

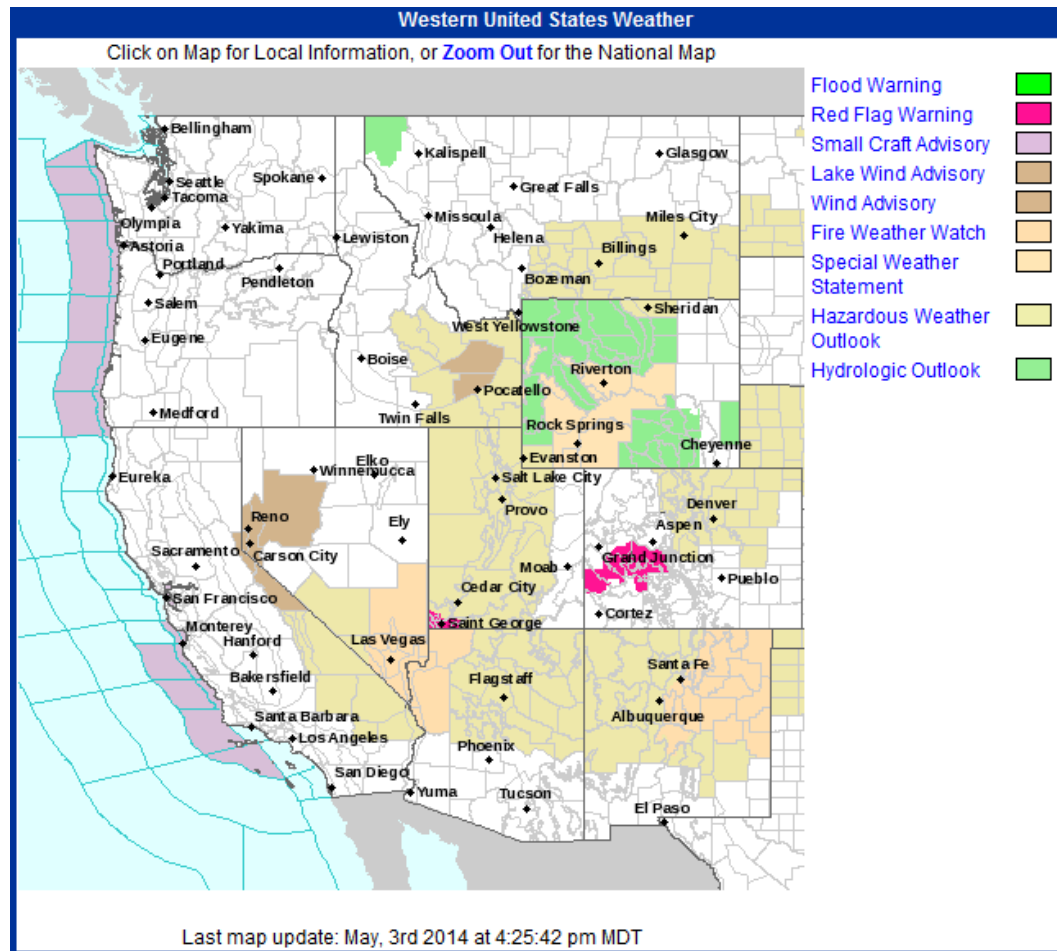

A pronounced cooling trend will begin on Sunday as high pressure aloft gives way to a deep low pressure trough. Expect temps to remain quite warm in the deserts but by Monday temperatures will be around the seasonal average. The marine layer will move up the coastal mountain slopes Monday night and Tuesday and bringing westerly winds through the desert passes as the trough digs south across the state. The trough will be slow to move east so daytime temperatures will likely remain below average through Wednesday with a slow recovery into the weekend.

Southeast California Weather:

A trough of low pressure approaching the area will continue to bring gusty winds to the region through Monday with a few showers possible in Inyo County. Temperatures will remain several degrees above normal Sunday with some slight cooling Monday. The low pressure system is expected to drop into southern Nevada by Tuesday pushing the gusty winds, cooler temps and scattered showers into Nevada and Arizona.

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

*As our state's rainy season comes to an end, it is highly unlikely that precipitation totals will increase significantly. This winter's below average rain and snowfall worsens conditions in this third straight dry year.

The drought could result in severe impacts to the municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The SOC continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.

Information as of 4/28/14

- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- The most recent snowpack survey, conducted on April 1, recorded California snowpack at 32% of normal. A more recent update using automated devices shows snowpack at 19% of normal as of April 20.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project in spite of the zero allocation policy. Deliveries will be boosted if storms produce enough rain and snow to increase reservoir storage and the snow pack.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.

It is imperative this concept is tested to ensure response teams can be successfully transported into the effected region and the affected Operational Areas' are able to receive aircraft at designated PODs.

UPCOMING EVENTS, TRAINING, EXERCISES

Diablo Canyon Power Plant Full Scale Exercise

Diablo Canyon Power Plant in San Luis Obispo will be hosting a full scale Hostile Action Based FEMA evaluated exercise on May 21, 2014. This is part of the required biennial demonstration of our ability to protect the public from a radiological incident at the nuclear power plant.

Tropical Cyclone Simulation Exercise Plan (May 8, 2014)

The National Weather Service (NWS) offices and National Hurricane Center (NHC), Weather Forecast Office (WFO) San Diego, WFO Oxnard, Local Emergency Managers, CalOES, Cal OES Warning Center, FEMA Region IX, and Western Regional Operations Center (ROC) will participate in a tropical cyclone simulation exercise on May 8, 2014.

The scenario for this exercise will use NHC developed Advisory package materials as were developed for the May 2013 exercise within NWS. The scenario depicts a tropical cyclone moving NNW along the west coast of Baja California and eventually re-curving into southern California. The NHC Advisory package materials have been shared with WFO San Diego and WFO Oxnard. The exercise will be compressed into one day (May 8). Due to the limited time available, participants will utilize only two of the Advisory Packages (To Be Determined), one simulating the storm a few days away, and the second with the storm much closer, with warnings/watches “in effect”.

Mission:

We protect lives and property, build capabilities, and support our communities for a resilient California.

We achieve our mission by serving the public through effective collaboration in preparing for, protecting against, responding to, recovering from, and mitigating the impacts of all hazards and threats.
